JOSEPHINE Welch is 21 and works at Avenue Restaurant in Bridport which recently opened. She is enjoying being part of a brand new business. Josephine studied catering at Weymouth College and, through the college, applied and has been given the opportunity to work for the Weymouth and Portland 2012 Olympics. Josephine's ambition is to be a patisserie chef.

■ WHAT inspired you to want to become a chef?

From an early age I have had a passion for food. I think this stems from my grandma and my parents. My grandma taught me how to bake, it started with biscuits and bread rolls and in the end we were making, icing and decorating Christmas cakes.

My mum has always enjoyed cooking and experimenting with new ingredients and I have grown up helping her preparing the food and learning how to cook lots of my favourite dishes. My dad loves spending the whole day in the kitchen just to create one meal! He has never cooked anything I haven't enjoyed, and my favourite are his summer barbecues!

■ WHO is your favourite TV chef and why?

I have always enjoyed watching Gordon Ramsay because he has such an amazing passion for food. The high standards he sets when cooking and expects when being served food are inspiring. Also I think his TV programme Kitchen Nightmares is hilarious!

■ WHO would you most like to cook for and why?

Both my grandparents were very supportive of me, especially when doing my exams and choosing what to study, however they both passed away before I had finished my catering qualifications, and I would have loved to have cooked for them. I would have cooked them something traditional like a Sunday roast and apple and blackberry crumble.

■ WHAT is your favourite type of food?

I love spicy food so my favourite has to be Thai, I love all the flavours they use, ginger, garlic and basil are some of my personal favourite ingredients to use in my cooking, I think Thai food always tastes fresh and has the right balance of spicy, sweet, and sour.

■ WHAT was the first thing you ever cooked?

The first thing I can remember baking were Easter biscuits with my grandma when I was about 4, I remember standing on a chair, covered in flour rolling out biscuit dough. As I grew older we would bake things every week, I was something I looked forward to and enjoyed so much.

■ WHAT were the best thing about the catering course at Weymouth College?

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

I enjoyed the whole time I was at Weymouth College; the lecturers there are really helpful and supportive. In the production kitchen, we took turns working on different sections, which gave us a good experience of working as part of a team. Also I enjoyed meeting other people that enjoyed cooking as much as me and I made lots of friends there.

■ WHAT will you be doing when you help with the catering at this summer's Olympics?

I am really excited to be part of something as iconic as the Olympics, it is a once in a lifetime opportunity and I am thankful to Trish, Simon and Gerry at the Avenue Restaurant for allowing me to take the time off so I could be part of the Olympics. While I am there I shall be working as a chef de partie in the VIP kitchen where we will be producing restaurant quality food for hundreds of people at a time.

■ WHAT was the last thing you listened to on your Ipad?

The last thing I listened to was the rap group Slaughterhouse. My favourite artist at the moment is Jon Connor who few people would have heard of but he will be huge soon, the sincerity and hunger he has for his music will make him a household name.

■ IF you were stranded on a desert island, what three things would you want to take with you?

The first thing I would chose would be a knife for protection and also it would be a tool I could use for lots of things. I would also take a big beach parasol for shelter from rain or sun, and lastly I would take a video camera to document my adventure so I could show people, or for people to find in the future.

■ WHAT hobbies have you got outside of cooking?

Last year I started kickboxing with Southwest Kickboxing club, it's a good way to keep fit and a great stress reliever! I enjoy visiting London and visiting the museums, art galleries and, most importantly, the great restaurants. I am currently learning to drive and I am looking forward to the freedom which will come with passing my test.

Town gets its moment to shine

OLYMPIC fever gripped Bridport as thousands of people lined the streets to witness the torch travel through the town.

Around 2,000 people saw the torch as it made its way through the town on the 55th day of the flame's journey around the UK.

Not even constant rain could dampen the enthusiasm of pupils and residents as they jostled to catch a glimpse of the Olympic flame. But a number of events were cancelled because of the constant downpour.

From East Road to West Road the market town was transformed into a hub of noise and colour as people celebrated the once in a lifetime event.

The Mayor, Councillor David Rickard, said the town could be proud of the celebrations it put on for the four torchbearers.

Councillor Rickard said: "Bridport did itself and the runners proud. I was really, really surprised to see how many people lined the road when it started. I'd estimate

by Paul Crompton
paul@pemedia.co.uk

there was up to 2,000 people there.

"I think for the runners it was a great, they looked like they were smiling as they were running but I think from my point of view it was all over too quick when compared to the amount of planning that went into it.

"The weather meant we didn't have the celebrations afterwards and that meant we couldn't make it one long party.

"If the weather was fine it could've been absolutely amazing and that part was a shame but given the conditions everybody seemed very happy to be there."

The Bridport leg of the relay was started by Deborah Saddon on East Road at 2:46pm.

It was then passed to 13-year-old Katie Norman on East Road who carried the flame before passing it onto Laura Kerr, 43, who then ran down West Street.

Peter Hellawell, 48, received the flame at the roundabout at the end of West Street and ran with it down West Allington.

The flame then moved to Chideock and Lyme Regis before passing through Burton Bradstock at around 4:50pm. It finished the day in Weymouth.

Rosie Barfoot from Stratton, near Dorchester, ran the third and last leg through Burton Bradstock taking the flame from Betty Port at the junction of High Street, Common Lane and Cliff Road which five days earlier was under three feet of water when the River Bride burst its banks following torrential rain.

Talking to View From Bridport at the finish by Beach Road she said: "What a wonderful experience, and for so many people to turn out in such terrible weather was fantastic. It was brilliant."

Trevor Chambers of Bridport was selected as one of the torchbearers. Trevor, aged 69, ran in the Hamworthy leg of the relay.

Couple die in mudslide

discovered once the car has been cleared of debris.

The retired couple had just begun a romance at the time of the horrific accident.

The man's body had lay undiscovered in the car since July 7th, before it was excavated from the land slide at the northern end of the tunnel.

The road was closed and a cordon put in place while emergency service staff excavated the vehicle.

A police spokesman said on Tuesday it was too early to speculate about the outcome but families have been informed and were being supported by family liaison officers.

The pair had been missing for more than a week before detectives searching for the pair discovered the crushed car on Monday, July 16th.

The car was excavated by Dorset Fire Service crews yesterday (Tuesday).

Dorset Police's Assistant Chief Constable James Vaughan, leading the investigation, said: "We have found the body of a man so far. We are making the reasonable assumption that it is the missing man.

"We have linked the car with the missing couple from Somerset.

"They are retired and they are a couple, a relatively new item.

"We cannot confirm but we suspect, because we have no reasonable explanation for where Mrs Snell is, she will be found in the car."

Concerns began to grow for the couple when they were reported missing by friends and family on the weekend of July 7th.

By the end of the week police started scrutinising telephone records and bank details in their hunt for the couple and it was discovered they had been to Beaminstor.

Avon and Somerset Police then asked Dorset Police to check the area of Beaminstor Tunnel.

Beaminstor resident Douglas Beazer - who took pictures of the tunnel shortly after the mudslide - said he was shocked that nobody had discovered the bodies quicker.

He said: "The timing must have been crystal because they must have been there when the debris came down.

"There was about eight to ten feet of debris there. When I went down there I couldn't see anything at all. I took some photographs and I didn't notice anything at all.

"It's very sad to hear about the two people. After the mudslide residents have been saying it was lucky nobody was hurt. I was just surprised we had not heard that anybody was missing before."

Beaminstor Tunnel has been closed because of structural damage since the worst flash floods in more than three decades hit the town on July 7th. The deluge caused the mudslide.

A Dorset Police spokesman said at around 6.30pm on Monday, July 16th that the fire and rescue service were contacted by Avon and Somerset police regarding the partial collapse of Beaminstor Tunnel.

"Crews were subsequently sent to investigate the area, and following a period of excavation discovered a vehicle under a large volume of earth and mud.

"At around 7.20pm yesterday, police were advised that fire and rescue service personnel had discovered a car outside Beaminstor tunnel."

Calf in dramatic cliffside rescue

■ A SIX-week-old calf was plucked from the side of a cliff in a dramatic rescue near Eype.

The calf was winched to safety by the RSPCA after four days on the side of Ridge Cliff. The calf was unhurt in the incident.

A specialist team from the RSPCA climbing team were called to save the calf around noon on Monday, July 16th.

A number of previous attempts to rescue the animal had to be abandoned before the successful operation.

The Aberdeen Angus calf is owned by Dean Exton from Higher Eype Farm.

Mr Exton said: "The RSPCA went down the cliff on ropes and caught the calf and then put it in a large animal bag and winched it up.

"It's only six weeks old so there's no real value I can put on it yet but it's the principle of getting it back. It was stuck on an exposed ledge which wasn't nice for it.

"The first few days we did try to get it but it was still wild and very active so there was no way to get it until it quietened down.

"It's more often sheep that go down there but they can normally scramble back up because the nature of the cliffs, but we haven't had a cow go down there for about 18 months.

"Then me and a RSPCA inspector managed to slide it down the cliff to the beach to rescue it."

Pensioner on the mend after white van hit and run

A PENSIONER is recovering from serious injuries after a hit and run collision in Bridport.

The 68-year-old woman had to have extensive surgery after she was hit by a white van behind Waitrose on Rope Walks.

The elderly pedestrian suffered injuries including a broken arm in the collision at 9:45 am on Saturday, July 7th.

The woman was helped by passers-by who rushed to her aid.

Dorset Police has renewed its plea for the motorist who drove off in the van to come forward.

PC Brian Puttock of Bridport police said the pedestrian had required extensive surgery.

He said: "I am keen to speak to members of the public that kindly gave assistance to the pedestrian and anyone else that witnessed the collision."

Witnesses and anyone with information should call Dorset Police in confidence on 101 quoting incident number 07:164.

Alternatively, call the free and anonymous Crimestoppers line on 0800 555 111 where mobile phone tariffs may apply.

Flood victims warned of bogus salesman

WARNINGS about bogus salesmen cashing in on the "extraordinary" flash floods which hit Bridport and Beaminster have been issued.

Trading standards have told homeowners to be wary of door-to-door salesman offering to fix problems caused by the floods.

Residents who need work carried out are urged to find a Trading Standards approved trader they can trust at www.buywithconfidence.gov.uk

The warning comes as agencies join forces in the huge clean-up operation underway in Dorset after the county was hit by the worst flash floods in decades.

Heavy downpours on July 7th and the following days covered West Dorset with three times the average rainfall for July in 48 hours.

The deluge caused the groundwater level in West Dorset to rise by 12 metres.

Staff from Dorset County Council's (DCC) highways team, the Environment Agency, Highways Agency and district councils are still working in affected areas to help with the clean-up effort.

Dave Bunt from the Environment Agency said the risk of flooding remained especially if further heavy downpours fell on the area.

He said: "Six weeks of heavy rainfall has resulted in exceptionally high groundwater levels.

"We're expecting further heavy downpours this weekend which unfortunately means there is a risk of further property flooding across Wessex, and from groundwater flooding in some areas of Dorset.

"We'd urge people to continue to be vigilant and to check our website for flood alerts and warnings."

Miles Butler, director for environmental services at DCC, said: "The floods that hit Dorset this week were extraordinary.

"All agencies have worked together throughout the week to help people protect their homes, to get roads open and to keep essential services running."

Highways Agency's emergency planning manager in the South West, Robin Herringshaw, said they were working closely with all their partners to monitor weather conditions and maintain safe roads and reliable journeys.

He warned: "Drivers should plan their journeys before setting out, check weather conditions, leave extra time for their journeys if travel conditions are poor, and delay their journey if the weather becomes severe."

● A total of 35 tonnes of sandbags were distributed by West Dorset District Council on Saturday, July 7th.

The A35 through Winterbourne Abbas was closed for most of the following week due to flooding.

It was opened westbound traffic on Thursday morning but further rain on that night increased flooding on the road and it had to be closed again.

A Groundwater Flood Alert remains in force for Dorset and the risk of flooding from the West Dorset streams and the River Frome remains high because the ground is still saturated.

Significant damage was caused to Beaminster Tunnel - which remains closed until September - and there were land slips at Lyme Regis and Shipton Gorge.

People in affected areas are advised, wherever possible, to avoid coming into direct contact with floodwater.

Anyone who needs to go into the water is advised to wear waterproof gloves and rubber boots and remember to be careful of potentially concealed hazards.

Anyone who comes into contact with floodwater should wash their hands thoroughly to get rid of any harmful bugs.

People are being advised to be aware of the high risk of rockfall in coastal areas while landslides have delivered thick mudflows and quicksands to the beaches in many places.

LOVE A GOOD WEDDING?

So do we, which is why over fifty couples each year choose to share their special day with us by having their ceremony in a Lyme Regis Town Council licensed venue.

Civil marriage and partnership ceremonies can be held in The Guildhall and now also in the Langmoor Room, part of the redeveloped Marine Parade Shelters.

The popularity of our venues is increasing so we are looking for stewards to work on a rota basis and act as the Town Council's representative at ceremonies. Duties include setting out the room prior to the ceremony, welcoming guests and operating the CD player. Stewards will be responsible for ensuring that the premises are well looked after during ceremonies. Full training will be provided. Our ideal stewards will be friendly and outgoing, able to work flexibly and always have a spare pack of tissues at the ready. Stewards will be paid a fixed rate of £20 per ceremony (usually lasting no more than two hours).

TORCH FACTFILE

WHEN the torch relay reaches its conclusion later this month, a total of 8,000 torchbearers will have carried the flame during the 70-day, 8,000-mile relay to the Olympic Stadium in London.

THE route was chosen so the Olympic Flame went within 10 miles of 95 per cent of people in the UK, Isle of Man, Guernsey and Jersey.

The torch travelled by a variety of transport methods including horseback, bicycle, tram and steam-train.

THE torch and relay were important elements of the cultural festivals surrounding the Olympic Games of Ancient Greece.

During the Games, a sacred flame burned continually on the altar of the goddess, Hera.

In addition, heralds were summoned to travel throughout Greece to announce the Games, declaring a sacred truce for the duration.

A VERY precise ritual for the lighting of the flame is followed at every Games. It is lit from the sun's rays at the Temple of Hera in Olympia, in a traditional ceremony among the ruins of the home of the ancient Games.

After a short relay around Greece, the flame is handed over to the new host city at another ceremony in the Panathenaiko stadium in Athens.

The flame is then delivered to the host country, where it is transferred from one torchbearer to another, spreading the message of peace, unity and friendship.

It ends its journey as the last torchbearer lights the cauldron at the Olympic Games opening ceremony in the Olympic Stadium, marking the official start of the Games.

The flame is extinguished on the final day of the Games, at the closing ceremony.

Meet the torchbearers

■ BETTY Port of Dorchester, aged 61, carried the flame through Burton Bradstock.

Betty's Nomination Story (as provided by the torchbearer's nominator): Betty is one of the most inspirational and amazing people that I have ever been fortunate enough to meet.

I first met her when I started secondary school. At the time, I had lots of health issues that I was really struggling with. She was totally supportive of me, taking the time to listen and help wherever possible.

It wasn't just me either; everyone knew she would help wherever possible and she was a central pillar of the school.

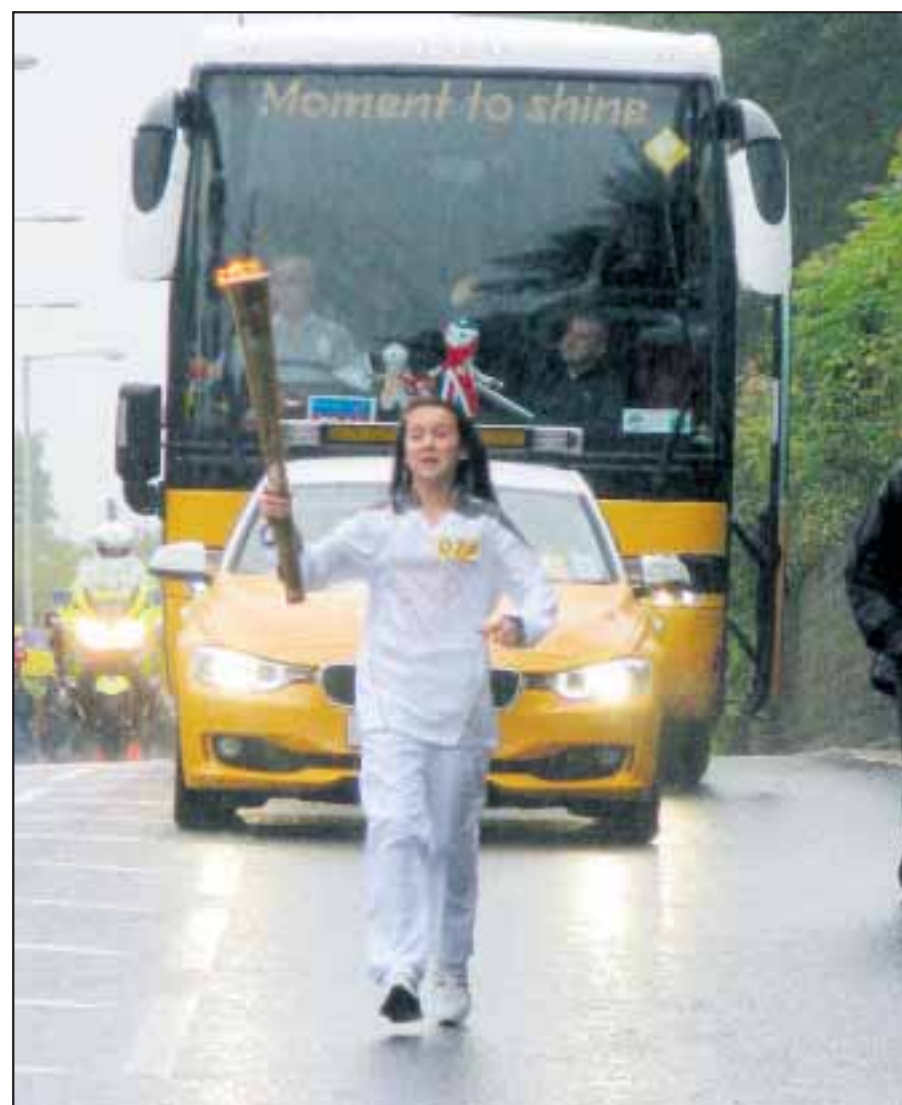

At her retirement last year, she decided to train for priesthood. So now, Betty continues to support the local community and reaches out to everyone, of every denomination and faith.

Without her support, I would have not set up a charity which now supports 800 children affected by the Cherbobyl disaster in Belarus and she gave me the confidence to study medicine.

I now practice as a paediatrician and am the first registered paediatrician who uses a wheelchair. Without Betty, none of this would be possible.

And I'm just one of literally thousands whose lives she has enhanced!

■ KATIE Norman of Bournemouth, aged 13, carried the flame through Bridport.

Katie's Nomination Story (as provided by the torchbearer's nominator): Katie is my best friend's daughter. My friend Ann has been through some very hard times and has brought up her two children on her own and done an amazing job.

Katie is now 12-years-old. She has helped her Mum with a massive smile and has never asked for things because she knows her Mum can't afford it.

A few years ago Ann started coaching girls football at Boscombe Albion and Katy started to play for the team. They have been amazing winning everything. Ann's dedication to be admired.

Last August tragedy struck, Ann's partner Kevin of three years had a heart attack and sadly died. Kevin and Ann had dated 30 years previously and lost touch.

They found each other three years ago and were desperately in love.

Kevin took to the role of Dad in Ann's children's lives quickly and easily. The children absolutely idolised him.

He was a very kind, patient and loving man. He spent all his spare time with Ann, Katie and her brother John doing things like walking, cycling, going to the beach and helping them study.

Naturally Ann's life turned upside down. It was Katie who called me when the police turned up on the doorstep to tell Ann that awful news.

It was Katie that held it together and looked after her mum until I got there. (John too).

Ann has carried on coaching Boscombe Albion, coaching sometimes with tears streaming down her face.

Katie has stepped up & is their top goalscorer. She is also a fantastic middle-distance runner.

Sport is her life. I would love to see her (and her Mum if possible) run with the Olympic Torch.

■ LAURA Kerr of Alton Pancras, aged 43, carried the flame through Bridport.

Laura's Nomination Story (as provided by the torchbearer's nominator): Laura, has been supporting the Dorset People First which is a friendship club for adults with Learning Disabilities, for a number of years now.

She very successfully raised £250,000 in grants to keep these wonderful clubs going. They support around 500 people throughout Dorset.

Laura is very kind, supportive and helpful to everyone she meets. We are from Cowden Care Farm in Charminster and I am writing on behalf of 35 clients which she supports. Laura makes sure that everyone is involved especially those that are less able.

She sets up discos, pub nights, bowling nights amongst many different activities.

She involves volunteers and other organisations throughout Dorset. She is a very special person.

■ PETER Hellawell of Bournemouth, aged 49, carried the flame through Bridport.

Peter's Nomination Story (as provided by the torchbearer's nominator): Peter is inspirational, working tirelessly to break down the stigma of HIV. At 40, having lived with HIV for half of his life, he trained to run the London Marathon. Six years and 10 marathons later, his enthusiasm remains astounding. He has helped raise thousands for charities including Help & Care, Positive Action and Julia House.

He also volunteers behind the scenes as a trustee of Positive Action, at his running club and recently as launch co-ordinator for the Anne Frank Exhibition Bournemouth, where he supported others in delivering a memorable cross-generational, interfaith event.

He is committed to equalities: his work is centred on encouraging social cohesion and full and active inclusion of disadvantaged groups.

Living life to the full in face of a life-limiting illness, Peter would be a torch bearer who would represent the Olympic ideals in every way.

Grandfather's celebrity experience with torch

A GRANDFATHER was made to feel like a celebrity when he carried the Olympic flame.

Torchbearer Trevor Chambers said it took him two days to come down from the high of the once in a lifetime experience.

The 69-year-old was mobbed by crowds wanting to get his autograph and have pictures with him and the torch during the relay on July 13th.

The Morcombelake man was even asked to sell his Olympic torch for £500 - but he turned the offer down.

The retired mathematician was part of the relay team at the Hamworthy leg on the 56th day of the torch's journey around the country.

By Paul Crompton

paul@pemedial.co.uk

Mr Chambers was cheered on by his family - including his youngest daughter Katherine Allan, who nominated him to become a torchbearer.

He said: "It was an amazing day. It lived up to my expectations - the build up was tremendous.

"The highlight for me was at the beginning of the run when I was waiting to go and when I finished.

"The crowds kept wanting me to stand next to them for photographs and the pressure from the crowds was very high, they just swamped me.

"For a short while I knew what it was like to be famous and it felt okay actually. It felt very good.

"When I was running the crowds were overwhelming, waving flags and cheering.

"I was on a high for the rest of the day and the next."

Mrs Allan's nomination letter read: "He [Mr Chambers] has achieved much in life; he is a loyal and generous husband and father (not to mention grandfather, brother, uncle, friend...), fantastically talented guitarist and erstwhile cricketer.

"His last job before retirement, as a lecturer at Warwick University, allowed him to educate and inspire many students.

Proud day for council chairman

CHAIRMAN of West Dorset District Council, Cllr Gillian Summers, said: "We were absolutely thrilled to welcome the Olympic Flame to West Dorset and are incredibly proud of the huge numbers of people who turned out, despite the wet weather, to line the route and cheer on the torchbearers.

"We would like to thank residents, stewards, town and parish councils and council staff for making the Olympic Torch Relay through West Dorset such a success.

"We would particularly like to thank the community groups and organisations who laid on special events and activities to mark the Torch Relay as it passed through their area. A number of these had made use of the special grants available from West Dorset District Council to help communities celebrate this unique and historic event."

■ Trevor Chambers at the start of his leg of the Olympic Relay

"In retirement he has become very involved in his local Dorset community.

"In 1999 a dilapidated church hall was offered for sale to the village of Morcombelake, and after five years of negotiations by my dad, fundraising (for purchase and significant repairs) led by my dad, and his establishing a registered charity, the hall finally belonged to the village."

She added: "The most inspirational thing about my dad is that he has had such a positive impact on so many people, but has absolutely no idea how special he is."

The refurbished hall is now central to the community providing a venue for charity and social events, clubs and classes. The events include the monthly Luncheon Club for the over 70s.

Youth council is another step closer

A YOUTH council will be formed to give young people a voice in Bridport.

The decision to create Bridport Youth Council next year was made at a meeting of students, teachers and town councillors.

Young people from the town's primary and secondary schools will be democratically elected to represent their areas.

by Paul Crompton
paul@pemedial.co.uk

The youth council's representative will attend a full town council meetings each school term.

A second meeting of youth representatives will be held each term out of school in a venue of their choice.

A decision on whether to have a young mayor is yet to be taken.

Pupils from Bridport St Mary's, Sir John Colfox,

Bridport Primary School, Symondsburry, Burton Bradstock and Powerstock met with councillors at an inaugural meeting to discuss creating a youth council on July 5th.

Fifteen-year-old Mollie Foster gave a speech in favour of the proposal during the meeting in the Town Hall.

The Rights Respecting

Ambassador at Colfox said: "Having a youth council is about a wide range of students coming together with one voice and making a change because we hope our input and voice will make a difference within the community."

"The fact is that youth in the town feel like they get a lot of negative press and are stereotyped and viewed in a certain way so now we know we can input positive things into the community. This is the first step in giving us a chance to feel we matter and have a say in what happens in the town."

David Powell, an education consultant, is helping lead the project.

The former head teacher said: "The schools have all agreed a group of young people will be released half a day each term to come together to help the town council and talk about issues affecting them."

"There is still much to discuss, like how the youth council may elect a spokesperson (or young mayor) and how to ensure all town and village young can get their voice heard, including those educated elsewhere or at home is represented."

The teachers met separately on the day, led by Bridport Primary deputy head, Jane Delaney.

They explored effective participation and agreed to network next year to develop their work further.

Town mayor, Councillor David Rickard said: "One of the best things about the day was the fact there was teachers from all the schools who had a meeting on how to co-ordinate the development of the project."

"They made links between their schools so any project going forward will not be such hard work because they will all have the same goal."

He added: "In terms of a youth council there are still lots of stages to go through but it was a good first step; there was lots of energy to take it forward so watch this space."

There's a wide range of sporting and fitness activities available in Bridport if the Bridport Leisure Centre's public open day was anything to go by.

■ DOUBLE Olympian Shirley Parker with Josh Penny and Tristian Belasco

By Paul Crompton
and Chris Denne

There was even the chance to meet a former double Olympian in the form of fencing coach Shirley Parker who competed in Rome in 1960 and Tokyo in 1964.

The swordswoman was on hand to help youngsters get a taste of the sport in the centre's main hall.

She said: "Fencing is a wonderful sport, a conversation with the blade. It exercises the mind and the body."

"I couldn't stop myself fencing."

The veteran fences with 40 other enthusiasts at the West Dorset Fencing Club which makes use of premises in Bridport's Sir John Colfox school.

At the other end of the hall Francis Miller promoted an entirely different form of combat - Tae Kwon Do.

The instructor introduced youngsters to basic self defence techniques before members of his club demonstrated their knowledge of the Korean martial art.

More than 700 people took advantage of the open day described by the leisure centre's Lin Hill as pleasing.

She said: "It was the first open day for 12 years and we are generally pleased with how it went."

She added: "It went well. We wanted to give something back to the community and with the local clubs setting up here for the day it really gave people an idea of what's going on in the area."

Town in a buzz about new bee campaign

A CAMPAIGN supporting bees has caught the imagination of Bridport residents.

A total of 145 people signed up in support of the Bee Cause campaign run by Friends of the Earth.

The organisation set up a stand in Bucky Doo Square to speak to residents about the plight of the humble bumble bee.

The organisation's representatives heard

by Chris Denne

chris.denne@pemedial.co.uk

from concerned residents who reported seeing fewer bees in their gardens and were keen to find out how they could play a part in ensuring these species survive.

The Bee Cause campaign will run throughout the summer.

Anyone who missed the stall last Saturday (July 14th) has another chance as Friends of the Earth West Dorset will be at Groves Garden Centre on Saturday, August 11th between 10am and 2pm.

The campaign is running on the back of the organisation's success earlier this month when an agreement was made to limit the amount of fishing in Lyme Bay.

A partnership between fishermen, scientists and conservationists in the UK's largest inshore marine protected area, aims to conserve the local seafood stocks and make the local fishing industry sustainable a cause fully supported by Friends of the Earth.

Anyone interested in joining the local branch of Friends of the Earth or helping with their campaigns can call Rosemary Lovegrove on 01935 891415.

People can also register their vote online or get more information about bees at www.foe.co.uk/bees

Swannery to the rescue

■ A BABY swan has been reunited with its family after being rescued from a dangerous road.

The two-month-old lost cygnet was safely returned to his parents and six brothers and sisters thanks to Abbotsbury Swanherd, Dave Wheeler.

The lost cygnet was found and taken to a vet by a concerned woman who found it wandering in the road in Dorchester.

She then returned it to the river, but was still concerned for its safety when she saw it cowering in the reeds, apparently too young and frightened to fend for itself.

So she called the team at Abbotsbury Swannery, who set out to help. Mr Wheeler took the cygnet in overnight and gave it a good meal, plenty of rest and Amy his daughter gave it lots of cuddles.

The next day, staff spotted what they believed was the cygnet's family, further down the river in Dorchester.

Mr Wheeler said: "Local people knew there was a family of nine swans living on the river and so when only six cygnets were accounted for, it seemed obvious that we had the missing one. We knew we'd got it right when we saw the parents nodding their heads at the cygnet, which is their 'swan-speak' for recognising another swan."

John Huston, general manager of Abbotsbury Tourism said, "We're regularly called out to help swans in distress. In this case, the cygnet was vulnerable to predators such as dogs or foxes. In the extraordinary flooding conditions, it's unlikely it would have found its family without some help."

Take control of your heating!

No need to rely on expensive night storage, oil or LPG

Save up to 30% on your summer energy bills

- One radiator or a whole house fitted in just a day no mess, fuss or pipe-work required
- All quoted prices include delivery and installation

At South West Heating Solutions we know all radiators were not created equal! From our service to our product, we think our business stands out from the crowd. By sticking to our values & giving exceptional personal service & value for money, we have grown from a small family run operation to be one of the UK's largest installer of German storage radiators.

Our excellent service

As a local, family run company, we hold true to our belief that customer service is paramount. We look after our customers from their first free survey to the last installation & any aftercare you may need. We can even take care of organising with your energy supplier & offer free, independent advice on how to obtain the best tariffs. Our experienced engineers & electricians install our radiators with utmost precision, no mess & no fuss. There is a reason why half of our business is personal recommendation. Our products are guaranteed & maintenance free, so there is no need to worry about any extra costs in the future.

Our products

With over 2,000 successful installations, our delighted customers have transformed their properties by plugging into possibly the best & most technically advanced retro-fit heating system any where in the world. We believe the German radiator system has enormous benefits over the British night storage system, its technical superiority makes it easy to use & the automatic controls means it keeps you warm when its cold, saving you from paying for heating you don't need. Slimline & stylish, our radiators are available in extensive size ranges & over 200 different colours.

Why replace your old heating?

Old fashioned Night Storage, apart from using a large amount of energy, has little control. The rooms you want heated always seem to be cold at the very time of day when you need them to be warm, making you rely on expensive back up heating. Like gas, oil or lpg, our products are a primary heating system, but unlike these systems, using German 24hr storage radiators give you complete control over the temperature in each individual room. They are simple to install & we believe, more economical than oil, lpg or old fashioned night storage.

Radio station looking for a home

COMMUNITY radio station Bridport FM is looking for a portable building to act as a temporary studio.

The Bridport Arts Centre (BAC) initiative is set to broadcast from the town centre from September 17th to 23rd using material generated by local people.

BAC learning co-ordinator Kate Wilson, who is acting as the radio station's studio manager, is keen to give the station a visual as well as an audio presence.

by Chris Denne
chris.denne@pemedial.co.uk

She said: "It has always been our intention to house the studio on the arts centre forecourt where it can be seen by passers-by.

"Ideally we are looking for a small two roomed portable building as we have been told these are better acoustically than a caravan, which was our original idea.

"One room will be the studio itself and the other a waiting area for studio guests - of which we hope there will be many."

The arts centre is appealing to anyone who may have a portable building they can borrow or hire to get in touch.

If you can help please contact Kate Wilson on 01308 427183 or kate@bridport-arts.com.

Olympic wind

■ A CONTRAPTION designed to puff some Olympic fervour into sailing fans blew into Bridport as part of its whirlwind tour of Dorset.

The crew of Cartwheelin' is on a mission to collect the winds of Dorset to take to the Battle for the Winds in Weymouth, the theatrical event set to mark the opening celebrations of the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

They stopped off at Bucky Doo Square to collect wind from passers by, storing it in a device they hope will breathe life into the artistic showcase set to convene in Weymouth on July 26th-28th.

The cart will now be cycled around various points in Dorset including Shaftesbury and Christchurch to engage with people and promote sustainable transport for carnivals and processions. And to gather much needed sailing wind of course.

The team of artists all live in the Bridport area and include the Lyric theatre's Niki McCretton and Marc Parrett.

Learn key skills for self reliance

TRANSITION Town Bridport has announced its first skills for self reliance course.

The event will cover the elements of woodwork, metalwork, plumbing and electrics. This is a five-day course, running from 9

The course is supported by TopSparks, RKL Tools, Bartletts, Retail Display Solutions and Footeprints.

Bridport news briefs...

New link between Bradpole and Loders

A NEW off-road pedestrian link between the villages of Bradpole and Loders (near Bridport) has been created. Working closely with the landowner and Loders Parish Council, the Rights of Way Team secured an additional 500 metres of footpath which means that the public can now walk safely between the villages avoiding a very busy section of country lane.

A new exit point was included in the diverted route to enable easy access to a nearby bridleway and the wider rights of way network.

A35 ditch clearing

DORSET County Council road men are helping to clear out the ditch at Winterborne Abbas which flooded, closing the A35 earlier this week.

With more rain expected, it was all hands to the pump to clear the water course to prevent further flooding on the torch relay route.

The A35 is a trunk road, managed by Connect on behalf of the Highways Agency.

But with the main road closed and the torch relay imminent, county council staff helped locals and Connect staff to clear it out.

Environment director Miles Butler agreed for council staff to help. He said: "These are exceptional times so we were happy to help."

NEWSDESK 01297 446144

New victim support centre opens

VICTIMS of sexual assault have access to better help with the opening of the county's sexual assault referral centre.

The doors to the centre opened last month to provide multi-agency support to victims of rape and sexual assault under one roof.

The centre – a partnership project led by Dorset Police and NHS Dorset and supported by Dorset Rape Crisis Support Centre – will provide victims with the help that they choose.

The Bournemouth based centre will include crisis support, counselling referral, health and welfare information, police and forensics (if they decide to report). Victims who self-refer do not have to report the assault to the police.

At ARC (Assault Referral Centre) Dorset, they will be given all the necessary information so that they can make an informed choice about whether or not to do so. If they do decide to report the offence, they will be informed and supported throughout the process.

Detective Superintendent Sara Glen has been part of the partnership team integral to creating ARC Dorset.

She said: "At ARC Dorset, we want victims to feel safe and sheltered at what is a very traumatic time for them.

"Dorset is a very safe county but those who do fall victim to rape and sexual assault deserve the highest quality of care possible from their multi-agency service providers. This is what ARC Dorset aims to provide.

"Whereas previously it would not have been clear to a victim the full range of services available to them following an attack, now they can access multi-agency support by picking up the telephone to ARC Dorset.

"This means that, initially, when everything is still so raw they will not have to explain their story over and over again."

ARC Dorset is a partnership initiative with Dorset Police, NHS Dorset, local authorities and other statutory and voluntary organisations.

It is provided by Harmoni for Health, an independent sector service provider.

David Hillier, ARC Dorset manager, said: "ARC Dorset provides comfortable and welcoming surroundings for victims of rape and sexual assault and their families or supporters.

"As well as providing access to crisis support, medical examination and advice and counselling referrals, we also try to focus on the smaller things that make a difference – like a cup of tea, a hot shower and a change of clothes.

"We ask anyone reading this to let as many people as possible know about ARC Dorset.

"We want victims of rape and sexual assault to come to see us to get the help that they need."

Dr Karen Kirkham, lead GP for Dorset Care Commissioning Group, said: "I am delighted that ARC Dorset is now open; this gives the NHS an opportunity to support individuals at a very difficult time, to encourage them to access sexual and other health services to meet their specific identified needs.

"It will also help us to meet one of our key strategic aims, to reduce health inequalities."

Anyone – man, woman or child – who has been raped or sexually assaulted either recently or in the past, can contact ARC Dorset directly – as a self-referral – or come as a referral from the police or any other agency.

Self-referrals simply dial 0845 519 8638 to make an appointment or email contact@arc.dorset.org.uk

■ DORSET and Somerset Air Ambulance (DSAA) is urging the public to help them raise funds and awareness during National Air Ambulance Week (NAAW). The event takes place between October 24th and 30th.

NAAW is an initiative put together by the Association of Air Ambulances (AAA), the organisation which unites not only Air Ambulance charities from across the country, but also operators and ambulance services. The association gives a national voice to a local service.

DSAA Chief Executive Officer, Bill Sivewright said, "By joining together with other local Air Ambulances across the country to promote NAAW, we are hoping that it becomes a regular feature on people's event calendars. There are so many different ways to get involved during the week. You could hold a mufti or dress down day at your school or workplace. You may wish to organise your own event – maybe you want to hold a cake sale, fete, or do something more daring like a parachute jump or sponsored swim.

"We believe fundraising should be fun and many of these initiatives are easy to organise and take very little pre-planning. Whatever you decide to do, rest assured that all monies raised will stay locally and help us to raise the £4,000 a day it costs to keep flying."

Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance has attended more than 8,850 emergencies since its launch in March 2000, saving many lives and aiding recovery with the speed at which casualties have been taken to hospital.

To register your event or find out more about how you can get involved call 01823 669604 or email info@dsairambulance.org.uk

Lyme Regis

Lifeboat Week 21st - 30th July

Carnival & Regatta Week 4th - 12th August

Lyme Regis Lifeboat Week is set to take over the town for nine days, starting this Saturday (July 21st), with a spectacular 65 events planned.

The annual fundraising week is this year set to be bigger and better than ever before, with three aerobatic displays and the return of the popular Red Bull Harbour Reach expected to be among the most impressive events.

This year's event will also be particularly special because it is the first with new boat "Spirit of Loch Fyne" in the station. The Atlantic-85 class boat arrived in Lyme Regis earlier this year following a public farewell parade for the "Pearl of Dorset", which served the town for almost 15 years.

The new boat will be officially handed over by its sponsors from the Loch Fyne restaurant chain and named by the Reverend Jane Skinner in a ceremony at 4.30pm on Sunday, July 22nd.

Lifeboat Week will get off to a busy start, with activities on the opening Saturday including an MX5 Owners Club Rally, a welcoming display with "Spirit of Loch Fyne", a mud rescue demonstration with local coastguards and performances from Lyme Regis Majorettes and Uplyme Gospel Choir.

A barbecue will be held on the Slipway things really kick off with a display by the Red Bull Matadors air display team and the Red Bull Harbour Reach wakeboarding competition, which last year drew crowds of thousands.

Other main events throughout the week will include a display from the RAF Falcons Parachute Team, landing on the beach at 3pm on Friday, July 27th and long-term Lifeboat Week favourites, the Red Arrows, flying in at 4pm on the final day, Sunday, July 29th.

Traditional Lifeboat Week events including the Yard of Ale Competition, the Bathtub Race and Illuminated Boats are also included in the programme.

There will be a number of children's events, including the Pavement Art Competition, Teddy Bear's Picnic, Sand Castle Competition and Sand Sports, plus other competitions, quizzes and live music every day for all the family.

Don't miss the spectacular firework display to be held at 10pm on Saturday, July 29th.

Full programmes of events are now available for £1.50 from various outlets around the town, including the RNLI gift shop on the Cobb.

The View From Lyme Regis wishes the lifeboat crew every success with Lifeboat Week 2012

■ ON SHOW: The RAF Red Arrows have been one of the most popular Lifeboat Week events for several years and will be returning to Lyme next week after a difficult and busy year for the team

Lyme Regis welcomes back the Red Arrows Sunday, July 29th at 4pm

THE RAF Red Arrows have long been a Lifeboat Week favourite and the aerobatic team will be flying in again this year as the grand finale to a packed week of events.

The team will fly in over the bay at 4pm on Sunday, July 29th for one of their famous displays. Huge crowds, as usual, are expected to descend into the town for the event, with the best views from Marine Parade or Lister Gardens.

The familiar red, white and blue smoke over the Cobb has become synonymous with the RNLI's main fundraising event over the years.

In fact, Lyme holds the Red Arrows so close to its heart that it held its own memorial service following the tragic death of Red 4 pilot Jon Egging, which came just weeks after last year's Lifeboat Week display.

Many gathered on the beach to release red balloons into the sky in memory of the pilot.

The team were struck by further tragedy later in the year when fellow pilot Sean Cunningham was killed.

Despite their difficult year, the Red Arrows are now back in the sky and ready for their performance in Lyme Regis. The display has been fitted into an extra busy year for the team, having taken part in a fly-by for the Queen's Diamond Jubilee and with a display at the Olympics scheduled.

LYME Regis last year hosted the Red Bull Harbour Reach wakeboarding competition for the first time as part of Lifeboat Week, drawing in crowds of thousands along the beach and Marine Parade.

This year the spectacular event is returning on the opening evening on Saturday, July 21st starting at 7pm. It will also follow a performance from the Red Bull Matadors air display team across the bay, expecting to draw in further spectators and add a huge boost to Lifeboat Week fundraising totals.

Other events on the opening night will include a barbecue on the Slipway and the traditional Lifeboat Week favourite, the Illuminated Boats.

Later in the week the RAF Falcons Parachute Display Team will drop into Lym Regis.

Another crowd puller, this unique and thrilling display sees the parachuters freefall from a height decided upon on the day, depending on weather conditions, before releasing their noticeable red, white and blue parachutes and landing right in front of their audience on the sand.

The team will then be greeted by the Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, and a salute will be taken by Group Captain Brian Lavender OBE, AFC Rtd., from Kilmington.

LYME Regis is getting ready for the annual fun and frolics of Regatta and Carnival Week – a nine-day packed programme of summertime events for the whole family.

This year's events will be held from Saturday, August 4th to Sunday, August 12th. From competitions, races and live music to the carnival's more quirky favourites – including the Wheeled Derby – almost 60 events have been squeezed into this year's programme, culminating in the Grand Carnival Procession and fireworks display on the final evening.

Regatta and maritime activities will include sailing club races, gig club races, powerboat rides and fishing boat trips for children.

But for the non-seafaring type there is plenty more taking place on shore. Regatta and Carnival has become known among residents and visitors for its fun and quirky events, which include the Golf Ball Derby – a speedy race of golf balls down the ramp into Langmoor Gardens, limbo dancing, egg catching and even a world pebble balancing competition, inspired by Lyme's own stonebalancer.

Perhaps one of its most hysterical and popular events, especially among local residents, is the Wheeled Derby, this year taking place at 7pm on Monday, August 6th. Pairs in fancy dress must race from pub to pub – one in pram, wheelbarrow, scooter or other wheeled device, and one pushing – and both guzzling half pints at each stop.

Another of the week's favourite events is the Lyme's Got Talent Competition, this year returning for what is expected to be its third sell-out success. The show will be held at the Woodmead Halls at 8pm on Tuesday, August 7th.

Children will be kept entertained all week with a wide range of events including the Pavement Art Competition, Sand Sports, Sandcastle Competition, Teddy Bear's Picnic and Junior Town Crier Competition. There will also be family quizzes, a treasure hunt and duck race – plenty for all ages all week long.

Other highlights of the week will be the Walk of Light Torchlight Procession at 9pm on Thursday, August 9th and the new Carnival Games on the opening day, Saturday, August 4th from 6pm.

The grand finale Carnival Procession will start at 8pm on Saturday, August 11th, with participants gathering for judging in Holmbush Car Park. Last year's processions was one of the best Lyme has seen for years and organisers are hoping they can make it even better this year and are asking all local organisations, businesses, families and friends to get into the carnival spirit and take part.

The procession will be followed by live music in the Marine Parade shelters at 9.30pm and a grand fireworks display at 10pm, bringing to a close what is set to be a spectacular week of events.

Why not be a part of this year's carnival?

LYME'S Grand Carnival Procession has seen a revival in recent years, with an influx of local organisations, businesses and families, as well as visitors to the town wishing to take part.

It's no surprise, as a great spirit takes over the town each year for the annual summer highlight, and everyone seems to want to be a part of it.

In recent years the Regatta and Carnival Committee celebrated its 60th anniversary and, despite appalling weather conditions for the grand procession, crowds still turned up to take part in the torrential rain or cheer from the sidelines... and it has benefited from the same community effort ever since.

Now in its 64th year, organisers are hoping this year's grand procession will be the biggest and best yet. They are hoping for all local organisations, groups, businesses, clubs, pubs or just families and friends to take part. Visitors to the town are also more than welcome to join in.

Participants will gather at Holmbush Car Park before the starting time of 8pm for judging.

Full details of how to take part and information on all other Regatta and Carnival Week events will be printed in the programme, which will soon be available from local outlets or from the carnival kiosk on Marine Parade during the week.

For a beautiful new kitchen just change the doors

Dream Doors Dorset is a Franchise of a National Company. It is owned and run by Andy & Shelley Stewart as a family business with reliable National branding & backing. Their expert staff will help plan your work, help you decide what materials to choose and explain what will happen in your kitchen.

Andy and Shelley are into their 8th Year as a Dream Doors Franchise. Having previously made it to the final of the South West and South Wales regionals for Franchisee of the Year Awards, their commitment has made their business thrive in this time. As a Small Business, Dream Doors Dorset has a proven track record that has helped them achieve a high reputation within the industry and they strive to provide customers with their knowledge, skills, dedication and care.

By replacing the doors, drawers, and if chosen new worktops, appliances and accessories such as plinths, cornice and pelmet a completely new kitchen can be achieved.

A kitchen facelift can save you up to 50% compared to a new kitchen and of course it's more environmentally friendly. But how does this work? A door makeover saves what is not broken such as the main structure of the kitchen including the carcasses and simply replaces the visible elements you want to change. In addition Dream Doors can also assist with minor re-designs and additional carcasses through to new kitchens. So flexibility and choice is the name of their game.

Why not transform your old or dated kitchen into something fresh and attractive. You can pick a colour, any colour, a style, any style and as the doors and carcasses are made to measure non-standard sizes are not a problem.

So whether you are looking for a contemporary, traditional, or a country kitchen it can all be carried out in only a couple of usual hassle, disruption and upheaval.

Why not visit the showroom to see what's possible and view the extensive range of styles and finishes, worktop choices and the range of NEFF appliances and Franke sink and taps.

Another chance to see B Sharp perform 'On Golden Cap'

IF YOU missed the B Sharp's premiere performance of 'On Golden Cap' at Poole, as part of Coastal Voices, organisers tell us not to worry. There is another opportunity to see it on Friday 27th July, at the Weymouth Beach/Live Site on the main stage at 4.30-4.50. This is non-ticketed event and is open to the public as a part of the Cultural Olympiad Maritime Mix programme for mass voices, film and music. Fran Williams, B Sharp Director said don't miss this last opportunity to hear this very beautiful and touching piece of music. The making of On Golden Cap has been an incredible journey for everyone involved, we have brought together 180 young singers from across East Devon and Dorset to form this new choir, with the brilliant composer John K Miles. Coastal Voices has been a great opportunity for us to develop important partnerships for the future and opportunities for young music makers in the region.

Elsbeth McBain Chief Executive of Lighthouse, Poole said of our world premiere performance 'After two years of planning, commissioning, creating and rehearsing, the performance of coastal Voices on Sunday delivered far more than was ever dared hoped.

B Sharp, and the young people of Lyme Regis, dispelled an image that choral music was mainly for older people when they lifted the roof, our heart rates, and our pride when they performed John K Miles sublime new work 'On Golden Cap'.

The younger part of the Coastal Voices collaboration showed us all that not only can they sing brilliantly – but that music making in their region is alive and kicking – and of exceptional quality.

The young people inspired the music commissioned by Creative Coast to reflect the geology of the Jurassic Coast World Heritage Site, and they in turn inspired me and the rest of the audience at Lighthouse with their performance. Not only for their magnificent voices, but with the beauty of the score, the aptness of the libretto created by the words of the participants about the place they live, the professional delivery of the performance and the joy of the singers. It was a very special treat for this world premiere to also be conducted by the composer.

Lyme Regis and particularly B Sharp – you certainly showed us all!

On Golden Cap by John K Miles, was inspired by work with Billy Bragg, B Sharp and young people of West Dorset & East Devon. Singers from The Woodroffe School, Colyton Grammar, Axe Valley Community College, St Michael's & Mrs Ethelston's primaries began working on the project over a year ago.

Programme note from our Composer John K Miles:

The catalyst for On Golden Cap was a song-writing project Hear Here, run by the inspirational youth arts organisation B Sharp in Lyme Regis. The participants were drawn from local schools and a core group of young people from B Sharp. I brought in some initial musical starting points, before kicking the project off with a visit from legendary songwriter Billy Bragg. He worked with each group for a session, with an emphasis on writing personal lyrics with meaning and depth. We subsequently developed and added to the material over six weeks of intense collaborative work, painting a picture of what it feels like to live in Lyme Regis that ended in an emotive and poignant performance, Songs of Lyme, in October 2011.

John K Miles explained 'The catalyst for On Golden Cap was a song-writing project Hear Here, run by the inspirational youth arts organisation B Sharp in Lyme Regis that ended in an emotive and poignant performance, Songs of Lyme, in October 2011. I wrote On Golden Cap in direct response to this performance, moving from East to West along the Jurassic Coast to Lyme Regis, culminating in the ascent of Golden Cap, the highest point on the southern coast of England. Once again it was a privilege to work with the young people from West Dorset and East Devon. Accompanied by a fantastic professional band they brought 'On Golden Cap' to life, showcasing explosive energy, delicacy and poise in equal measure. I was over the moon with their committed performance of the piece and deeply touched by the emotional feedback; a few tears, but mainly lots and lots of smiling from performers and audience alike!

Clare Rinaldi from Mrs Ethelston's primary school said 'our shared experience with Coastal voices and singing 'On Golden Cap' with so many fresh and talented children was a truly memorable experience for me personally. Our whole musical journey was full of fun and the real feeling of Community. Children in our area have few opportunities to sing in large groups and in such superb theatres, we all felt part of something special'

Book signing with Rosanna Ley this Saturday

WEST Dorset author Rosanna Ley will be signing copies of her new book 'The Villa' at The Book Shop, 14 South Street, Bridport from 10am to 12noon on Saturday, July 21st.

As noted author Rachel Hore says, "The Villa" is "beautifully written, warm and romantic ... the perfect holiday read". The story starts when Tess Angel receives a solicitor's letter inviting her to claim her inheritance – the Villa Sirena, perched on a cliff-top in Sicily – she is stunned. Her only link to the island is through her mother, Flavia, who left Sicily during World War II and cut all contact with her family. Initially resistant to Tess going back to her roots, Flavia realises the secrets from her past are about to be revealed and decides to try to explain her actions. Meanwhile, Tess' teenage daughter Ginny is stressed by college, by her blossoming sexuality and filled with questions that she longs to ask her father, if only she knew where he was.

Rosanna Ley has worked as a creative writing tutor for over 15 years. Affiliated to several colleges and universities in England she also runs her own writing courses in the UK and abroad. She has worked with community groups in therapeutic settings and completed an MA in creative writing for personal development in order to support this. Her writing holidays and retreats take place in stunning locations in Italy and Spain and whilst not teaching or writing she mentors and appraises the work of new writers.

Rosanna has had numerous articles and short stories published in UK magazines, and 12 novels of contemporary fiction published in the U K, Germany, Greece and the USA under a pseudonym. Her books are inspired by the culture and landscapes of Italy, Sicily and the Canary Islands and feature strong female voices from the past and present along with an intense undercurrent of mystery and romance.

Rosanna spends some time every year travelling around Europe looking for writing inspiration and more tranquil settings for writing holidays. She loves cliff walking and her favourite writing place is somewhere with a sea view.

You're Probably Wondering Why I've Asked You Here...

THIS July Bridport Arts Centre will welcome the one and only Phill Jupitus. He will be performing material from his new show 'You're Probably Wondering Why I've Asked You Here', before heading to the Edinburgh Festival. After a sell out run and critical acclaim across the board for his last tour, fans are advised to book early.

Veteran to the world of performing, Jupitus quit working in the Job Centre in 1984 to become a ranting poet, quickly rising to prominence supporting such bands as The Style Council and The Housemartins.

After years of sharing his poems whilst on tour with music legends such as Paul Weller, The Who and Madness he is going to perform his left-wind punk poetry during the first half of this show.

Phill became a familiar face when he became team captain on BBC2's Pop quiz Never Mind The Buzzcocks. Twenty three series' later Phill is the last man standing from the original line-up, his infectious giggle, quick remarks and cheeky sarcasm proving a hit with audiences.

Aside from Never Mind the Buzzcocks and his live stand up shows, Phill currently appears as a regular guest on QI (BBC2). While on BBC Radio 4 Phill is a regular member of the award winning News Quiz in addition to numerous presenting work on such shows as Phill Jupitus' Comic Strips and The Man Who Bought Hendrix's Stage.

In the Autumn of 2009 Phill graced the West End stage in the hit musical Hairspray playing Edna Turnblad receiving critical acclaim for his performance. In 2011 Jupitus played King Arthur in the UK and Irish tour of Spamalot and in his most recent stage role he starred in 'Big Society' for 19 nights at the Leeds City Varieties.

The summer of 2010 saw the book release of the ex-host of BBC 6's Music critically acclaimed breakfast show, Good Morning Nantwich – Adventures In Breakfast Radio, where not only does Phill discover the answer but finds out what really makes the listening nation tick first thing in the morning.

Marketing Manager Lisa Wilcock said: "We're very excited to welcome Phill back to Bridport, this is an amazing opportunity to see his tour before it hits Edinburgh".

Tickets available from Bridport Arts Centre Box Office 01308 424204. £16/£15 members/£12 concessions.

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

JEAN Lawson, a Dorchester reader, has sent us this poem, which was written by her grandson, Matt, when he was only ten years old. He was inspired to write it by a trip to the seaside at Lyme Regis.

THE SEA

*The rushing waves, like white stallions, charge down the bay,
The plains of endless sand, like Demerara sugar, disappear by the end of day.
The craggy rocks upon the water grip the shore with jagged claws,
The pebbles sing their sombre song without a single pause.*

*The clear blue sky with travellers white, which soar in a cutting arc, Contrasted with the deep blue depths; dense compacted, dark.
The calm waters ripple gently, spreading through the vast ocean,
Now there's no disruption apart from a lone fish's motion.*

*The green tangled hair of the deep dark depths sways in the sea's wind
A salt-water spring bursts from the stones to return to where it begins.
Hundreds of limpets clinging to rocks like a Roman legion,*

Tiny little crabs scuttling about, from rock, to pool, to freedom.

*A lone boat glides through the water, but the water stays sheet-smooth,
The water laps onto rocks, slowly cutting a groove.
The boat sails over the horizon, captained by its men.
The calm seas of Lyme Regis will see this boat again.*

Our next poem, by Bill Webster, won the poetry competition in the June issue of the monthly magazine, Literary Review. Like Jean Lawson's verse above, it was also inspired by a visit to the sea shore.

ON THE EDGE

*I watch the interplay of sea with land:
It mumbles stones, moustached along its lip;
I see a world more kin to air than land:
Bright crystal rats to scatter in the sand.
At other times I know too well the way
A gale will drive it surging in to hurl
Wild breakers at the wall, recoil, then whirl
And rake the top with gravel in its spray.*

*But when I raise shore-bound beachcomber's eyes
I see a world more kin to air than land:
The colour it may take from seething sand
Is nothing to its shadings from the skies.
A beaten pewter sheet when roofed with grey Becomes in sun galactic sparks of light,*

*Then, when the moon is circled by the night,
A silver path, a shimmering silky way.*

*But always at the border of this space
The curved horizon draws its sweeping line,
A simple, flat, unarguable sign
That limits all we see, defines our place.
Until in tiny silhouette a shape
Appears to break that line and slowly move
Along the length of it, as if to prove
In that dark form there is at least escape.*

This closing thought is from the Elizabethan poet, Francis Quarles.

ON THE WORLD

*The world's an Inn; and I her guest.
I eat; I drink; I take my rest.
My hostess, nature, does deny me
Nothing, wherewith she can supply me;
Where, having stayed a while, I pay
Her lavish bills, and go my way.*

Edana Minghella to perform at 115 Club

BRIDPORT'S only dedicated dinner and music venue, 115 Club, last week enjoyed a fabulous performance by Barbara J Hunt, supported by Pete Maxfield on Double Bass. The pair, who only recently began their collaboration, performed lively numbers, showing how music can entertain, enthral and encourage. Barbara is a philosophical lady, understanding the roots of music and using this to make her performances personal and meaningful, while Pete offers up some of the finest Double Bass ears have ever heard.

Next time at 115 Club, the wonderful "raw power and emotional intensity" of Edana Minghella will be on display, supported by Pete Maxfield and Mick Smith. Edana, an Anglo-Italian talent of the finest standard, will perform Jazz and Blues, offering beautiful lyrics, including tracks off her album 'Still on my Feet' (released November 2011). Edana Sings the blues like no other, her voice will tear your heart out, and her arrangements are sensitive but sublime, with world-class musicians, simply stunning.

Edana's music has lit up many a stage, but also film, having featured tracks in the films 'The Talented Mr Ripley' & 'Truly, Madly, Deeply'.

115 Club always ensures a wonderful evening is had by all. The intimacy of this cosy cellar setting guarantees the mood is set for an exclusive evening of entertainment.

For more information check out the 115 Club's own site at www.115club.com or www.facebook.com/115club or Youtube "115club" for video montages of previous gigs including Barbara J Hunt.

Keith's concert of Cohen classics

LEONARD Cohen, born 1934, can be described as one of the most accomplished singer/songwriters of our time. He started out as a poet and novelist at home in Montreal, Canada in the 50s and 60s, and soon began writing music on the Greek Island of Hydra. The basis for his work often focuses on the deepest thoughts and feelings known to man such as sexuality, relationships, religion and morality. Cohen is often highly regarded by critics for his lucid, rich lyrics and intimate composition.

Over 2,000 renditions of Cohen's songs have been recorded but none as desolate and sensual as Keith James' latest interpretation:

"I'm endeavouring to pair each song back to its' central core and original sense of purpose by performing each song as near to the way it was originally written, exposing Cohen's unprecedented sense of humanity" said Keith.

Keith has recently completed a successful national tour (The Great Canadian Song Book) celebrating the pinnacle of Canadian song writers and has since taken a deeper interest into Cohen's work specifically.

The current tour has become the largest tour of its kind spanning the UK with 63 dates of selected Art Centres and Theatres. Having begun in March with The Rondo Theatre in Bath, through to The Arts Theatre in Solihull, in June; the tour will be one of the greatest honours in Keith James' 30 year career in music.

Keith James will be in concert performing The Songs of Leonard Cohen at the Marine Theatre this Friday, July 20th. For ticket details see the advert below.

Have you got talent?

IF YOU have ever fancied you could sing or have a talent that you think Simon Cowell has missed, then now's your chance to show people what they are missing and maybe earn yourself £100!

The Symene Sports Club is hosting 'Symondsburys Got Talent' at their annual fete at the end of August.

You are assured of a big audience as the annual event, reputed to be the biggest fete in Dorset, attracts over 5000 visitors, and all you have to do is perform for two minutes.

And it's not just singing; any form of entertainment is considered from juggling to joke telling, from gymnast to musician. Contestants may bring their own backing if required.

Entry forms are available from R J Balson & Son, Butchers, West Allington, Bridport, or for more information you can ring 01308 459163 (evenings only).

Entry is free, but you must pre-register. NO entries will be accepted on the day.

Big Boy Bloater and Fairy Queen cancelled

UNFORTUNATELY, due to circumstances beyond organisers control, Big Boy Bloater, and the screening of 'Purcell: The Fairy Queen', scheduled for this Friday (20th) and Sunday (22nd) respectively, to take place at Bridport's Electric Palace, have been cancelled.

Contact your ticket vendor for refunds.

Cheddington Street Fair cancelled

ORGANISERS of Cheddington Street Fair have been forced to cancel the event for this year.

It was due to have taken place on Saturday, July 21st but a spokesman said that recent flooding meant they were unable to provide car parking and had been forced to cancel.

Anyone requiring further information can call Dave Maskelly on 01935 891891.

Summer fun for young people at Bridport Arts Centre

"FORGET the rain and come along for some great holiday fun at Bridport Arts Centre."

This is the message from Learning Coordinator Kate Wilson who has lined up an exciting array of activities for children and young people during the summer holidays. Whether you want to learn to stage fight or perform in a play you've created, there is something stimulating for all ages.

The first week of the holidays (July 24 to 26) sees a 3 day summer school by BACStage, the Arts Centre's Youth Theatre for 12 to 18 year olds. Participants will spend 3 intensive days devising and creating a new play to be performed on the Arts Centre's forecourt on Thursday 26 July. The summer school costs £60 or £40 concession and will be led by Lecoq trained actor and director Jonny Hoskins who also runs the weekly Junior BACStage drama club.

The second week focuses on younger children with a range of workshops for 8 to 11 year olds including stage combat (yes - real sword fighting!) on 30 July, a half day wire sculpture workshop on 1 August and carnival costume making 2 August. The fees are £15 /£13 concession or sibling for a full day and £10 or £8 for a half day. All the workshops are led by experienced professionals and places are limited.

For further information about any of the workshops listed or to make a booking, please call the Arts Centre's box office on 01308 424 204 or call in Tuesday to Saturday 10am to 4pm

LAST FEW TICKETS AVAILABLE FOR CAMP BESTIVAL

The clock is ticking and the weather is turning - don't miss out on the Lulworth based festival

JULY is absolutely flying by and there are only ten days to go until the festi-holiday frolics at Camp Bestival!

Set in the picturesque grounds of Lulworth Castle, the team have got an absolute cracker lined up for their fifth outing, but there are still the last few remaining weekend tickets on sale and day tickets are flying too, so if you want to be part of the ultimate family festival in 2012, you're going to have to get your skates on.

First up, we can't ignore the fact that this summer has had a distinct lack of sunshine but joy of joys the sun is about to get its hat on hip hip hoorah! The current long range forecast from MetCheck, however, is very favourable, and the most recent weather reports from Sky are predicting a "sustained spell of dry and sunny weather from this weekend" - so pack your sombreros and head for the Dorset coast!

"What can I say? Just over a week to go and I'm busy packing my spare pants, Silly Olympic sports gear and some records to play to the Camp Besti massive whilst eyeing the sky for signs of blue... and it's there! I hope you're all feeling as confident as I am about the whole shebang - we've worked hard on this one (like we do on all of them!) so I can't wait to open the gates next Thursday and get you happy campers settled in. Hi de hi!" said Camp Bestival organiser Rob da Bank.

Right before we screen the big ol' opening ceremony, the Camp Bestival team are throwing a Camp Olympics Warm-Up Bash and you're all invited! Hosted by the dapper king of chap-hop, Mr B the Gentleman Rhymer, you'll be treated to Britain's Got Talent drop outs Heart and Soul, mega moves from dance troupe Swing Patrol and top tunes from the Medina Uke Orchestra. Plus Lost & Found will lead you in a Best of British 80's Aerobic Dance Off and there's a sing-along for all you champions out there. Union jacks at the ready... this is going to be a belter of a bash!

If you like getting messy with music at a festival, you'll be pleased to hear that the Persil 'Mosh & Wash' stand will be on hand with singer-songwriter and musical mum, Sophie Ellis Bextor. Kids will be able to dress up as their favourite rock star and get a taste of what it would be like to perform at Camp Bestival with the special 'Mosh & Wash' stage, complete with a live festival backdrop!

Remember, the clock is ticking, so grab your tickets while you still can! And keep yourself up to date by visiting www.campbestival.net and our Facebook and Twitter for lots more information about Camp Bestival!

To book tickets visit www.campbestival.net or call 0844 888 4410

Four bed period home in historic Dorset manor house

FORTNAM Smith & Banwell, property sharing estate agent in Charmouth on Dorset's Jurassic Coast, is pleased to offer to the market an extremely spacious period home, part of an historic manor house in a beautiful rural setting at Catherston Leweston near the charming village with its facilities and beaches, at a reduced price of £420,000.

1 Catherston Manor forms part of the western wing of an imposing Grade II Listed manor house with origins dating back to the 14th Century. Converted into seven individual and unusually freehold houses in the 1960's, Catherston Manor sits in an elevated position with well tended communal grounds and stunning coastal views towards Lyme Bay.

1 Catherston Manor boasts large rooms, country and coastal views and a wealth of period features including decorative quarry tiled flooring, wood panelling, marble fireplaces, a feature landing area and stone archways from the original coaching yard. Much improvement has been carried out to the property over the past few years including damp and timber treatments, the installation of gas central heating and the electrics and plumbing updated.

The communal gardens are well maintained and provide sitting areas along with other amenities and there is a small and very pretty historic chapel, St Mary's Church, which is situated off the driveway and holds services at certain times of each month.

For further information or to arrange to view 1 Catherston Manor, pop into Fortnam Smith & Banwell at 2 The Arcade on the main road through the village, call 01297 560945 or visit www.fsb4homes.com.

Intelligent speed camera alert app - now even more effective!

- Upgraded award winning camera app now even better value
- Powerful new features make it easier to use
- Growing user community reaches 350,000 drivers

YEARS of intensive research and development went into the original launch of Speedwatch - the world's first intelligent live speed camera alert system app - and now the British company behind the award winning and well established product has launched Speedwatch version 2.0 - a major up-grade of their speed camera alert technology.

Speedwatch, from Cyclops, delivers key benefits including real-time warning for all speed camera types; accurate and timely data with no false alerts; instant personalised alerts delivered direct to the driver's smartphone and it is simple, intuitive and easy to use. Speedwatch version 2.0 is available on a 14 day free trial followed by an annual subscription available for an introductory period, of only £9.99. Existing Speedwatch iPhone customers will automatically get the version 2.0 up-date.

The operation of the Speedwatch App is automatic and, once opened, does not require any user interaction in order to receive alerts or updates. Speedwatch 2.0 offers genuine background running which means that you can exit the app to play audio, make calls and even use other apps and still get audio tone and notification alerts when you approach speed cameras and go overspeed. Single button reporting means that the user only has to touch the screen once - the Cyclops smart server algorithms does all the hard work to filter and check alerts before they are issued to the community - this means it is easy, but most importantly, safe to use - so the user can focus on driving. The driver is also able to easily confirm if a previously reported live site is still active, or has moved away.

Speedwatch uses Cyclops' Waypoint Technology, a unique and innovative geo-corridor system that provides ultra-reliable smart alerts. The UK and Ireland database includes over 20,000 professionally verified fixed and frequent mobile camera sites - the Speedwatch app also tells users when a mobile site is actually manned by a speed camera enforcement unit. The iPhone app has already seen over 75,000 downloads in the UK and Ireland since launch which has added to the wider community of more than 350,000 users which Cyclops partners bring from offering Speedwatch as a feature within their own navigation devices and applications.

The combination of smart alerts and the intelligent verification system means that Speedwatch is unquestionably the most reliable product on the market and avoids the irritating false alerts that are common with other less advanced systems.

Speedwatch data monitoring for both fixed and mobile cameras is based upon reports from official sources, and the community of Speedwatch users who provide instant updates on currently active enforcement sites.

The Cyclops database in the UK includes all fixed, variable, red light, red light and speed, average, temporary roadworks and mobile sites. In Ireland it includes all fixed and red light cameras and all Garda and Go Safe speed mobile enforcement units.

Speedwatch 2.0 is available on iPhone in the UK and Ireland through the iTunes app store <http://itunes.apple.com/gb/app/speedwatch/id369344137?mt=8>. Further details including a demonstration video is available at www.speedwatchlive.com

The new Seat Leon: Where design meets technology

- Stunning third generation Leon revealed in full
- Outstanding cabin quality meets cutting edge technology
- Exceptional fuel efficiency across the range
- Sub-100g/km TDI Ecomotive version available from launch
- Longer wheelbase for improved interior space and handling
- First in class to offer full-LED headlamps
- Debuts the new SEAT logo

SEAT today introduces the stunning new Leon. Seamlessly combining beauty and practicality, the all-new Leon is the epitome of desirability. Completely redesigned from the ground up, the third generation Leon is packed full of high-end technology, utilising a cutting edge chassis, advanced infotainment systems and sophisticated driving aids. Each of the engines combines powerful dynamics with outstanding efficiency.

The availability of full-LED headlamps for the new, third generation Leon is a pioneering move by SEAT – a first in the family hatchback class. This technology combines striking design with exceptional illumination.

“The new Leon condenses all the strengths of the SEAT brand more than ever before. It is a car with sporting character and wide-ranging strengths. It brings quality and technologies from the full-size class into the compact segment. The Leon is a decisive step in SEAT’s brand and growth strategy. It will be launched towards the end of this year as a five-door and will subsequently grow with further variants into a fully-fledged family,” said James Muir, President of SEAT S.A.

“With the all-new Leon, we have designed and developed a car which perfectly captures the meaning of ‘Enjoyneering’.

This compelling mix of design, technology, athletic performance and premium quality is certain to seduce existing customers, as well as bringing a new generation of car-buyers to the brand,” he added.

The new Leon is compelling for its excellent practicality. It combines a more compact exterior with a more spacious interior. The premium materials and the level of craftsmanship place the Leon squarely at the forefront of the competitive field.

Every power unit is among best-in-class for efficiency and emissions, with the highlight being the 1.6 TDI with start/stop. It has an average fuel consumption of just 74.3 mpg and a CO2 figure of just 99 g/km.

“The new Leon is an all-new car and opens a new chapter for SEAT. It combines SEAT’s dynamic new design language with the latest technology. Fine details and precise design, especially in the interior, reflect the high standard of craftsmanship of the new Leon,” explains Dr. Matthias Rabe, Vice-President of Research and Development for SEAT S.A.

Dr. Rabe added: “Built on the Volkswagen Group’s MQB shared architecture which benefits from systematic lightweight design, the new Leon offers an impressive performance, with low CO2 emissions and fuel consumption. In summary, the new Leon provides emotional driving fun, excellent efficiency, a stunning design and a high degree of utility.”

Design: simply stunning

“Thanks to its dynamic and assured character, the new SEAT Leon inspires a self-confident stance. It has a decisive look,” says Alejandro Mesonero-Romanos, Head of SEAT Design. “It keeps a high degree of formal beauty and sportiness.”

He adds: “It has extremely well proportioned volumes, with a slight shift of the visual weight of the cabin over the rear wheels, while keeping a very fluid transition between the front wing and the cabin. The surfaces have been severely sculpted all around in order to increase its tri-dimensional appeal, thanks to the effects of light and shadow. Its character lines show pure assertiveness, like for instance the outer shape of the headlamps and tail lamps. All in all, I strongly believe that the new Leon is full of character.”

At 4.26 metres long, the new Leon is around five centimetres shorter than its predecessor, yet the wheelbase is up by almost six centimetres. This clever packaging enables short overhangs and enhances the strong visual presence of the wheels, while giving practical benefits such as improved interior space, particularly for rear seat passengers, as well as in the luggage compartment.

The angular line of the headlamps is a typical feature of the new SEAT design language, while also being perfectly integrated into the Leon’s sculptural form. Full-LED lights are available for the first time in the compact class. The new headlamps give an unmistakable look to the front end of the Leon. Additionally, the new Leon now has a distinctive signature appearance thanks to the fitment of LED daytime running lights.

From the side, the new SEAT Leon looks like a precisely executed sculpture on wheels. The characteristic, unbroken ‘Linea Dinámica’ runs rearwards over the wheel arches. It is reminiscent of the tension of a well-trained muscle. The trapezoidal C-pillars are characteristic to the Leon, as are the short, upwards-pointing third windows.

The rear end of the new SEAT Leon has been intensively modelled; the large logo serves as an opener for the rear hatch. The slightly wedge-shaped rear light clusters highlight the car’s width and are also available in LED technology.

The interior: comfortable and premium

The elegant exterior design of the new Leon continues into the interior, which has a clear, light and uncluttered look. The dashboard is unconventional and elegant, with a two-tone design that makes it appear to float in mid-air. Fine details underscore the Leon’s high standard of craftsmanship – details such as the large air vents, the controls for the air conditioning and the three-dimensional form of the trim elements. The luggage compartment has a volume of 380 litres, around 40 litres more than the preceding model.

The body shell: lightweight and solid

The new SEAT Leon uses a new vehicle architecture that enabled development engineers to position the front axle 40 millimetres further forward. The results are a longer wheelbase and a balanced distribution of axle load – factors that significantly benefit comfort and sporty handling.

Thanks to advanced construction techniques and the use of lightweight materials in the body’s manufacture, the overall weight has been reduced by 90 kilograms compared with the previous version.

Drive: powerful and efficient

The new Leon will be powered by a series of powerful and fuel-efficient TDI and TSI engines, ranging from 1.2- to 2.0 litres. All engines feature direct injection and turbocharging, and have been engineered for low internal friction and fast warm-up. Compared with their respective predecessors, their fuel consumption is down by up to 22 percent.

The 1.6 TDI generates 105 PS (104 bhp) and 250 Nm (184 lb.ft) of torque. In the Ecomotive version with start/stop system and brake energy recuperation, it returns an astonishing 74.3 mpg on average, equating to just 99 g/km CO2*. The extensively re-engineered 2.0 TDI returns a hugely impressive 70.6 mpg* in the Ecomotive version, yet develops 150 PS (148 bhp) and 320 Nm (236 lb.ft) of torque. It is a powerful driving force for the Leon.

SEAT will rapidly expand the engine line-up. Early 2013 will see the arrival of the 1.2 TSI in two versions with 86 PS (85 bhp) and 105 PS (104bhp); a 1.4 TSI with 122 PS (120 bhp); and at the top of the petrol range, a 1.8 TSI with 180 PS (178 bhp) and a combination of direct and manifold injection. The diesel line-up will be augmented by the 1.6 TDI with 90 PS (89 bhp) and a powerful, range-topping 2.0 TDI with 184 PS (181 bhp). It delivers a maximum torque swell of 380 Nm (280 lb.ft).

Depending on the engine, transmission options range from five- and six-speed manual gearboxes or the renowned six- and seven-speed DSG dual-clutch gearboxes.

The chassis: dynamics with comfort

The chassis of the new SEAT Leon scores high for its sporty and agile character. Its front suspension features a MacPherson front axle with sub-frame, while the rear uses torsion beam suspension for engines up to 150 PS (148 bhp). More powerful variants use a multi-link construction that handles longitudinal and transverse loads discretely.

The new SEAT Drive Profile for the Leon FR allows the driver to vary the characteristics of the power steering, throttle control and engine sound (FR versions only) via a sound actuator using three modes: eco, comfort and sport. There is also a facility to tailor the settings according to the driver’s preference. The interior ambient LED lighting changes according to the selected setting: white in eco and comfort modes, and red in sport.

Infotainment: modern and flexible

In the new Leon, SEAT offers a full range of up-to-date infotainment solutions. The basis is formed by the Easy Connect operating system, which controls the SEAT Sound System entertainment and communication functions, as well as a wide array of vehicle functions, via a touch-sensitive screen in the cockpit.

The entry level is the Media System Touch in the Reference* line, which includes a CD radio with an SD card slot, four speakers and a five-inch touch screen. Style* and FR come with the Media System Colour featuring more in-screen colours and higher quality, with a CD drive and six speakers as standard (eight speakers in the FR). It connects external devices via Bluetooth, USB or aux-in. Its five-inch colour touch screen also controls vehicle functions. (*UK trim levels TBC)

The Media System Plus systems has a 5.8-inch touch screen with three-dimensional graphics in high definition, iPod connectivity, an optional DAB tuner, and voice recognition. The system comes with eight speakers. This system incorporates the navigation system, which also shows navigation information in the colour display between the speedometer and rev counter and can be controlled by voice recognition. The SEAT Sound System has a clear, crisp sound reproduction thanks to its 10-speaker and sub-woofer set-up.

Driver assistance systems: groundbreaking

The new Leon sets benchmarks when it comes to the available driver assistance systems. The drowsiness detection feature recognizes when the driver is losing concentration and suggests taking a break. Additionally, an advanced camera mounted behind the rear-view mirror manages both the Full Beam Assistant, which switches automatically between full and dipped beam, and the ‘Heading Control’ lane-keeping assistant, which makes slight corrections to the electro-mechanical power steering to prevent the driver from crossing over lane markings.

New SEAT logo

Another all-new element of the Leon is the logo on its grille, rear and steering wheel. The Leon will be the first car to wear the company’s newly refreshed badge.

Sporting a cleaner, purer design, the new SEAT logo represents the precision and elegance of the brand’s design language, while also reflecting the company’s engineering and quality leadership. The introduction of the new SEAT logo across all of the company’s visual material and locations will begin from Paris Motor Show in September.

RHA calls for transparency in the oil market

REPORTS that oil prices may have been another victim of price manipulation come as little surprise to the Road Haulage Association.

"This issue isn't just about the motorist," said RHA Chief Executive Geoff Dunning. "The price of oil dictates the price we pay for all fuel types. To learn that there is a possibility of oil traders worldwide manipulating the price comes as little surprise, given the recent news that our own financial system was rigged for the benefit of the banks.

"We find it quite baffling that the oil market, as one of the world's key commodity sectors, is unregulated and appears to rely, to a great extent, on the honesty of the trader to return accurate data regarding their activities.

"The G20 revelation which has found the oil market to be wide open to 'manipulation or distortion' must be acted upon as a matter of urgency. How many more financial stones must be overturned before we can see a fair financial system in which we can place our confidence?

"With fuel now representing over one third of a UK hauliers' operating costs, the world price of oil is critical to the viability of a cost-effective and efficient haulage industry. This country is trying to battle its way out of recession. If we cannot trust those who set the price for the life-blood of our industry, what hope is there for the rest of the economy?" Geoff Dunning asked.

How's about that then? Jimmy Savile's Rolls and Isetta to be auctioned for charity by Dreweatts, July 30

IT is well known that the cigar-puffing, marathon-running star of Jim'll Fix It and Top of the Pops, Sir Jimmy Savile OBE KCSG, hoarded countless souvenirs of his extraordinary 85-year life. Now, in accordance with his wishes, a major percentage of that amazing collection (550 lots from cigars to male jewellery) is being auctioned by Dreweatts in favour of the Sir Jimmy Savile Charitable Trust at Saviles Hall Leeds on July 30. The star lot is likely to be Sir Jimmy's beloved Rolls-Royce Corniche Convertible, though his famous yellow BMW Isetta bubble car will surely be quite a draw too.

The 2002 Corniche is number 46 of the 56 so-called 'Last of Line' models produced by Rolls-Royce to mark the end of 56 years of production at its Crewe plant – a related commemorative plaque is mounted on the centre console. It is one of only nine built in righthand drive and carries the registration JS 247 – 247 metres medium wave being the frequency on which Radio 1 was broadcast from 1967 to 1978. Immaculately presented in silver teamed with a cream leather interior, the car is understood to have covered just 4,420 miles from new and is estimated to fetch between £60,000 and £90,000.

Sir Jimmy purchased the BMW Isetta 300 Plus in 1965 while a resident DJ at the New Elizabethan Ballroom, Belle Vue, Manchester. It has apparently had a full body restoration by Lee Turnham, the Isetta Owners' Club registrar, and comes complete with the roof-mounted orange warning light fitted by the owner after he and the car had nearly been flattened by a lorry whose driver had failed to see them. Among those to have accompanied Sir Jimmy in the Isetta is the Duke of Edinburgh, who Savile apparently collected from Aylesbury railway station – the Duke's reaction was not recorded! The Isetta carries an estimate of £5,000-8,000.

Further details of the two cars and the 548 other lots of Savile memorabilia can be found at www.dnfa.com.

Delticom: Driving safely depends on quality tyres

ACTIVE automotive safety technologies such as ABS (anti-lock braking), ESP (electronic stability program) and PEBS (predictive emergency braking) are vital safety systems that are helping to reduce accidents on the road. However, it is equally important to have good quality tyres fitted to a vehicle to ensure that these technologies work effectively.

With the cost of motoring continuing to escalate one area where motorists are looking to save money is when replacing tyres. Yet it is a false economy to go for part worn or second hand tyres which may prove to be dangerous as well. Modern active safety systems depend on having tyres in good condition with adequate tread depth otherwise the technologies are unlikely to operate at their optimum. Mytyres.co.uk, offers a range of tyres that embrace the very latest wet and dry braking technologies to deliver to customers the best possible tyre choice for their vehicle.

Andy wins national award

A BRIDPORT PE teacher has become the winner of the inaugural Aviva Athletics Teacher of the Year award.

Andy David, who teaches at The Sir John Colfox School, was nominated by three students, Honor and Imogen Slade and Rhys Kirkpatrick not only for the quality of his teaching and his encouragement of the students, but particularly his work with the cross-country and athletics teams.

He received his award from Paul Farrington of UK Athletics during the school's House Prize-giving last week.

Mr Farrington said that the panel had been impressed by Andy's dedication and success in delivering athletics, and particularly with the school/club links and his work with Primary Schools in the area.

Andy who was awarded a framed GB sports vest signed by top athletes along with tickets to an upcoming Diamond Grand Prix event in Birmingham, had no idea that he had been nominated or indeed won, and was clearly proud but overwhelmed by the honour.

He said: "This was a real shock and I genuinely did not expect to receive this award."

"I feel tremendously privileged to win it and incredibly humbled to think that someone took the time and effort to nominate me in the first place."

"Behind this award is a school which is extremely supportive of athletics and cross-country and dedicated coaches and parents who give up their time come rain and shine (mostly rain) for very little reward, other than seeing young people grow and have fun."

"I am also very lucky that we are reaping the rewards of hard work from a few years ago and we now have students who love coaching their peers as much as they love competing."

"For me teaching has never been about self-glory, it is has always been, and will always be about providing as many opportunities as possible and guiding and shaping young minds and aspirations.

"This seems like a great opportunity to thank Mr Mardon, Mr Steward and Mrs Ford who shaped my mind in Year 7 and without whom I would not be doing what I do today."

Headteacher, Kay Taylor, said: "This is a fantastic recognition of all Andy does and also of all the sport within the school."

"As a relatively small school to be continually in finals and sending students to the elite phase of the English Schools competitions, we are really 'punching above our weight'."

"There is no doubt that Andy and the PE team do inspire students; they support them and they encourage their aspirations. This is a very well deserved award and Andy has worked exceptionally hard over the years to achieve it. What makes it particularly special for him is that it was our own students who nominated him."

Woodroffe U13 girls crowned county champs

THE Woodroffe U13 girls cricket team became champions of Dorset at the School Games Finals held in Bournemouth on Friday, July 13th.

Having already beaten teams from Wey Valley, St Osmonds All Saints and Gillingham School in previous rounds the team played against Parkstone and St Michael's Wimbourne at Dean Court cricket ground in a round-robin competition.

In the first game against Parkstone Woodroffe batted first and managed to score 43 in their allotted eight overs thanks mainly to an unbeaten 15 from Georgie Harwood 10 from Frieda Hall Hickman.

In reply, Parkstone started slowly against the accurate bowling of Izzy Helston but accelerated in the middle overs until the breaks were applied by some fine bowling from captain Frieda Hall Hickman who returned figures of 3 for 6 in her two over spell.

Izzy then took two wickets in the final over to restrict the Parkstone innings to 38 for 7, resulting in a five run win for the Woodroffe girls.

a six and two fours

In the match against St Michael's Verity Fuller [5] and Georgie Harwood [14] batted carefully but it was left to Year 7 pupil Jess Hodge to smash an unbeaten 17 including a six and two fours to boost the run-rate as Woodroffe finished on 62 for 7.

St Michael's raced into the attack and scored 30 for 1 off the first three overs before Lottie Rouse slowed the reply by taking 1 for 8 in her two overs.

Some fine catching from Sophie Simpson and wicketkeeper Verity Fuller, and a couple of sharp run outs, helped to keep St Michael's reply in check.

The Wimborne team required 12 runs off the last over but could only manage three against the accurate pace bowling of Izzy Helston.

Their final total of 53 was nine runs short of the target, leaving Woodroffe to lift the county champions trophy.

INSIDE EDGE

Cricket fixtures hit once again

WITH STUART BROOM

THE WEATHER once again dominated the cricket headlines with last week's heavy rain on top of already saturated pitches causing the cancellation of nearly all the region's scheduled matches.

There were only three exceptions. Over in the Devon League Uplyme & Lyme Regis 1st XI were beaten by 36 runs in a low scoring Division E encounter at Topsham St James.

Dorchester 3rds claimed all 20 points by virtue of Henstridge cancelling because they could not raise a side.

Bridport 2nds cancelled their game at league leaders Weymouth Long-shots resulting in a 40 point penalty.

This meant that although Tommy Tucker's young Dorchester side move back into second place in Division five N&W, they did not make any ground on the leaders due to Bridport 2nds scratching their match.

With the square at the Brewery Field still under water, Bridport first team had agreed to switch venues with Cattistock, but the rain put paid to their plans.

The weather which has now seen virtual cancellation across the board for the second week running means the new Dorset Cricket Board scoring system where each team is awarded five points for a cancelled game instead of receiving their current average points, disadvantages sides who may have got off to a bad start to the season and are playing catch up.

Champions Poole Town for example lost the first two games of the season to the weather whilst all of their main challengers played.

This put them at some 30 points disadvantage to Wimborne and Colehill who won both their games.

The recent cancellations almost certainly means that Poole will be unable to retain their crown because of the weather rather than their ability.

■ COPACOBANA?: The recent downpours have failed to disrupt the pre-season training schedule of Lyme Regis Football club who have taken advantage of the spectacular local environment to good effect! The Seaside train every Monday and Wednesday at 6.30pm - new players are always welcome. Photo by HOWARD LARCOMBE

BOWLS ROUND-UP BRIDPORT OUTDOOR

BRIDPORT Bowling Club's first team in the men's County League made the short journey to play Lyme Regis A and returned home with maximum points having won on all rinks and 75 - 41 overall.

It was the rink of Ian Corke, Barry Shortland, Brian Iversen & Brian Rumble who took top honours on this occasion running out 22-8 winners and they were closely followed by David Roberts, Tom Tocher, Bob Taylor & Bill Payne who won by 27-12.

For once Roy Lidington, Keith Brooks, Brian Conisbee & Chris Thorne came third although winning 26-21.

Bridport A travelled to Sherborne where only the rink of Max Dare, Brian Pratt, Paul Tibble & Ken Sanger finished on the winning side 21-14 in a 50-60 overall defeat.

Bridport B beat Greenhill B in a rearranged shortened match by 50-34 with David Aylott, Mike Higman, Mike Smith & Clive Langdon finishing top scorers 22-9 with Andy Spiller, Brian Parker, Mel Griffiths & Derek Hoskins also winning 17-10.

Bridport A made full use of home advantage against Portland Victoria in the South Dorset League running out 68-39 winners with Chris Thorne's four-some re-establishing themselves top of the class recording a 31-9 success.

The quartet, skipped by Bill Payne, followed up with a 21-14 victory and Barry Shortland, Mike Smith, Brian Iversen & Brian Rumble tied 16-16.

Bridport B lost a shortened game at Greenhill by 33-38 although winning on two rinks. Peter Billett, Bob Seadon, Paul Tibble & Clifford Harp scored seven shots over the last two ends to turn impending defeat into a 14-9 victory, whilst Sam Dunn, David Pattemore, John Carter & Alan Cowdrey led most of the way to finish 13-8.

Despite a strong showing by Max Dare, Philip Hedges, Brian Pratt & Norman Eccles who won 27-17 Bridport C went down 50-80 at Wellworthy B.

The club have played three mixed friendlies winning 87-48 against Axminster with Laura Taylor, Brian Pratt & Ken Sanger top scorers 27-9, before losing 54-97 at Chard.

These results were followed with a home defeat against Severalls, Crewkerne by 75-80, with R.Wilton, Gill Hunt, Peter Scott & Mike Smith top scorers 22-13.

BRIDPORT INDOOR

JOHN Davies, Ann Parkins & Margaret Pestelle's Aphrodite, the god of beauty, put on a beautiful show to defeat the super olympian warrior Zeus 24-6 in the Evening League.

Meanwhile, Ann Harris, Hugh Rees & Brian Morgan's Sprinters are running away from the opposition in the Morning League, defeating Equestrians 13-9.

Val and Reg Dodds & Margaret Pestelle's Archers finished 2,1,2,1 to beat Cyclists 14-11.

Sue Pedlingham, Chris Clarke & Roy Gill's Gymnasts also finished well, a 3,1,1,1 run gave them a 14-7 win over Wrestlers. Gordon Lee, Keith Brown & Brian Legg's Hurdlers scored big counts of six and five to beat Sailors 15-11.

Finally, Keith Peraux, Arthur Stone & Kay Cox's Divers sunk the Swimmers 15-8.

LYME REGIS with Paul Moffitt

WITH an improvement in the weather most games were played this week although, games played in the Dorchester area or further afield required a little re-routing to avoid the A35!

The championship side travelled to Dorchester but were disappointed to come away with only two points. The 'A' team again struggled, against Bridport this week, coming out with another 0-10 result.

The ladies, on the other hand, had a fine 10-0 win away to Broadstone. This was a very good result as Broadstone currently hold second spot in the league.

The annual friendly against Winchester was played away with Lyme coming out on top. The only other friendly to be played was against Donyatt where Lyme again prevailed.

The game against Ottery-St Mary was cancelled by Ottery fearing the heavy rain earlier in the week would render their green unplayable.

On Saturday the ladies played their annual fixture for the Robert Sumelka Cup, known as 'Robert's Day'. Pairs of ladies are drawn randomly and then compete on a knock-out basis.

Plenty to cheer Senior despite defeat

BRIDPORT manager Trevor Senior had plenty to be pleased about despite losing to a late goal at Lymington Town on Saturday in their first pre-season friendly.

The former Reading striker will be pleased by the number of chances that his side created particularly in the first half, and the relative success of a trial 4-2 system.

He will not be so pleased about some of the sloppy play in midfield that led to both goals.

The match was played on the Linnets training ground that whilst playable still had standing water around the outside.

"It wasn't ideal, but it gave both sides a workout, and beat training," said Senior.

Playing the new formation, Bridport had the much better chances in the first half, with Ben Clarke being presented with three opportunities, two of which were well saved by the home keeper, who also thwarted Roger Cummings and Jamie Filkins who after a good first touch failed to lift the ball over the gloveman.

Filkins, who has joined Bridport from Blandford United, is the brother of 'keeper Sam who was forced to make two good saves in the first-half from situations where the ball was given away by the Bees rather than created by Lymington.

Senior made a number of changes at the break, but his side continued to dominate early in the half with Jamie Filkins driving an angled shot just wide of the far post, and Jamie Morgan firing a shot just over.

However Lymington began to take charge and took the lead when a ball was played through the middle of the Bees defence.

Although it looked marginal whether the player was offside he raced through, and although Sam Filkins managed to

by Stuart Broom
stuart@pemedi.co.uk

save his first effort, the ball was swept home from the edge of the box.

Morgan equalised with a good goal with ten minutes to go, cutting inside from the left before hitting a low, hard shot that beat the keeper at his near post. The winner came just before the end when the Bridport midfield lost possession.

Although the first danger was averted at the expense of a corner, the resultant flag kick was headed home at the near post for a soft winner.

Senior told VIEW SPORTS: "The new 4-2 formation worked quite well, especially in the first half when we created a number of good chances.

"Although the game was hastily arranged, it was a good workout, and whilst we were missing several regulars, it was very worthwhile.

"The weather has interrupted our training which hasn't helped. We had to split last Tuesday's session because of the floods in Winterbourne Abbas, with the lads from the east training at Dorchester and the others at Bridport.

Then the rain was so heavy on Thursday that the training pitch was flooded, and with no indoor facilities available at short notice we had to make the best of it."

With St Mary's Field still under water, yesterday's game against Portland United was moved to the 3G pitch in Weymouth, with Saturday's home game against Hillingdon Borough still in doubt.

On the playing front Senior is still unsure of the situation regarding Simon Baines and Alex Halloran.

"Simon has had a couple of games with Poole Town who are able to offer him much more than us. He wants to play at the highest standard possible of course.

"However, he has been pleased with what he has seen here, and if they do make an offer which is not acceptable he has said that he would be more than happy to play for us.

"Hamworthy United are interested in Alex and he has played a couple of games for them, as well as training with Dorchester, so I am not quite sure of the situation just at the moment.

"Ben Briscoe has advised that he has been ill for a couple of weeks with a stomach problem which is why he hasn't appeared at training, but he says he is feeling a bit better, so hopefully we may see him soon."

One problem for Senior is Tom Richardson who is currently in hospital in London.

With Sam Charles out for the season, the Bees boss could be short of strikers come the start of the season.
